

KING SALMON

The king salmon (also known as the chinook) is the largest of the Pacific salmon. Adults return from the sea and move into freshwater streams to reproduce. They are an important part of the Native subsistence fisheries of Alaska.

